

Join us in supporting the Texas Council on Family Violence in their Purple Post Card Campaign.

Please take a moment to participate in the Purple Postcard campaign to maintain state funding for family violence services.

The deadline is January 22, 2007, so please respond soon with a purple postcard!

I have included a link to the online version of the postcard --- just visit the site and forward the card to everyone in your address book who lives in-state. All they have to do is fill out the card, submit it, then pass it along.

The more cards the legislature receives, the better! This is our chance to send a clear message to our lawmakers that funding for family violence services needs to be a TOP priority this legislative session. In the face of potential funding cuts for human services, making our voices heard is more important than ever before.

Sincerely,
